Dear Mr. Bartholomew:

Are you seeking a "hands-on" Chief Information Officer (CIO) who believes in leading by example and is a change agent who earns respect by demonstrating a sound understanding of the business goals, objectives, and technology and by implementing key technology initiatives on-time and on-budget while collaborating with a broad cross section of leaders. If so, we should talk.

Currently, I am the Manager - IT Technical Services for Workforce Development - Dept of Labor. Throughout the past 12+ years, I have been heavily involved in both the strategic and tactical planning required to align technology initiatives with budget dollars in the support of mission critical needs for the State of Nebraska. I have established my reputation built on operational excellence; through the delivery of practical, cost-effective solutions that increase efficiency and boost performance. Prior to this, I spent many years working as an Application Analyst.

With more than 17 years of total IT experience I know how to drive the solution development process to maturity and clearly communicate goals, decisions, and recommendations to the appropriate parties. My expertise lies in network design, administration, security, application development and integration. I am recognized for my innate ability to coach, motivate, and inspire a staff to reach their full potential.

Certifications include:

Junior Level Linux Professional (LPIC-1)

Thank you for your time and professional consideration in reviewing the enclosed résumé. I look forward to speaking with you soon.

Sincerely,

Jeff Lowenthal
